

Genesis 2:18-24

The Lord God said, 'It is not good that the man should be alone. I will make him a helpmate.' So from the soil the Lord God fashioned all the wild beasts and all the birds of heaven. These he brought to the man to see what he would call them; each one was to bear the name the man would give it. The man gave names to all the cattle, all the birds of heaven and all the wild beasts. But no helpmate suitable for man was found for him. So the Lord God made the man fall into a deep sleep. And while he slept, he took one of his ribs and enclosed it in flesh. The Lord God built the rib he had taken from the man into a woman, and brought her to the man. The man exclaimed: 'This at last is bone from my bones, and flesh from my flesh! This is to be called woman, for this was taken from man.'

This is why a man leaves his father and mother and joins himself to his wife, and they become one body.

Psalms 127(128)

May the Lord bless us all the days of our life.

O blessed are those who fear the Lord and walk in his ways!
By the labour of your hands you shall eat.
You will be happy and prosper.

Your wife like a fruitful vine
in the heart of your house;
your children like shoots of the olive,
around your table.

Indeed thus shall be blessed the man who fears the Lord.
May the Lord bless you from Zion
in a happy Jerusalem
all the days of your life!
May you see your children's children.
On Israel, peace!

Hebrews 2:9-11

We see in Jesus one who was for a short while made lower than the angels and is now crowned with glory and splendour because he submitted to death; by God's grace he had to experience death for all mankind.

As it was his purpose to bring a great many of his sons into glory, it was appropriate that God, for whom everything exists and through whom everything exists, should make perfect, through suffering, the leader who would take them to their salvation. For the one who sanctifies, and the ones who are sanctified, are of the same stock; that is why he openly calls them brothers.

Alleluia, alleluia! Your word is truth, O Lord: consecrate us in the truth. Alleluia!

Mark 10:2-16

Some Pharisees approached Jesus and asked, 'Is it against the law for a man to divorce his wife?' They were testing him. He answered them, 'What did Moses command you?' 'Moses allowed us' they said 'to draw up a writ of dismissal and so to divorce.' Then Jesus said to them, 'It was because you were so unteachable that he wrote this commandment for you. But from the beginning of creation God made them male and female. This is why a man must leave father and mother, and the two become one body. They are no longer two, therefore, but one body. So then, what God has united, man must not divide.' Back in the house the disciples questioned him again about this, and he said to them, 'The man who divorces his wife and marries another is guilty of adultery against her. And if a woman divorces her husband and marries another she is guilty of adultery too.'

People were bringing little children to him, for him to touch them. The disciples turned them away, but when Jesus saw this he was indignant and said to them, 'Let the little children come to me; do not stop them; for it is to such as these that the kingdom of God belongs. I tell you solemnly, anyone who does not welcome the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it.' Then he put his arms round them, laid his hands on them and gave them his blessing.

Singing an October prayer to Mary

Salve Regina, Mater misericordiae:
Svita dulcedo, et spes nostra, salve.
Ad te clamamus, exules filii hevae.
Ad te suspiramus, gementes et flentes,
in hac lacrimarum vale.
Eia ergo, Advocata nostra, illos tuos misericordes oculos ad nos converte.
Et Jesum benedictum fructum ventris tui,
nobis post hoc exilium ostende.
O clemens, O pia, O dulcis Virgo Maria.

Hail, holy Queen, Mother of mercy, hail, our life, our sweetness and our hope. To thee do we cry, poor banished children of Eve: to thee do we send up our sighs, mourning and weeping in this vale of tears. Turn then, most gracious Advocate, thine eyes of mercy toward us, and after this our exile, show unto us the blessed fruit of thy womb, Jesus, O merciful, O loving, O sweet Virgin Mary! Amen.

The Salve Regina received its current form at the Abbey of Cluny, France, in the 12th century, and it was used as a processional hymn on Marian feasts. It is a devotional prayer especially loved by sailors - of whom St Nicholas is patron! We'll sing it to end all our Sunday Masses during October.

Mass Intentions and November Masses for the dead.

Envelopes are now available in the church porch for use by those who would like Mass to be celebrated during November for their deceased family and friends.

If you wish for a separate, general, Holy Souls Mass to be offered, please use one of the same envelopes and these Masses will be said either during November or in the months following.

With regard to other Mass intentions please note that to have Mass offered on a particular day or date, it is wise to request the Mass at least a month in advance. Rarely are dates available within two weeks of the time of 'booking'

Deepening our participation at Mass:

Receiving Communion

It has been interesting over the past couple of weeks, meeting with the parents of the children who will next year begin to receive Holy Communion.

This past week we spent time thinking about when and why we receive Holy Communion.

It is now just over 100 years ago since Pope Pius X was successful in promoting regular reception of Holy Communion by most Catholics. Up to that time there was a real hesitation for people to receive Holy Communion frequently.

It was common for people to receive Holy Communion just once a year, after their annual Confession and in order to fulfil their Easter duties.

Earlier in the life of the Church there was such reticence about receiving Communion that in 1217 the Church legislated that Catholics in good standing MUST receive Holy Communion at least that once a year. The legislation was necessary because it was not uncommon for Catholics to go several years without receiving Communion.

Following Pius X's reform there was something of a problem: the association between confession as the regular preparation to prepare to receive Communion was carried forward. The consequence was that those who received communion weekly also went, weekly, to confession. This was not intended by the Pope, but a couple of generations of Catholics grew up accustomed to the practice.

Weekly confession, for most people, probably becomes a matter of form only, or leads to a certain scrupulosity that is similarly unhelpful.

That said, we ought to examine our consciences regularly and know when it is appropriate and when it is not appropriate for us to receive Holy Communion.

All the baptised have a certain right to receive Holy Communion, and Communion is certainly not a reward for good behaviour. At the same time we have certain responsibility to ensure that we do not treat the Eucharist casually, and receive without some consideration about our preparedness, and our readiness to live the communion we receive.

Sometimes our spirit is just not in the right place for us to be open to receive the Lord's gift. It may then be better for us to abstain for a week or two, while we resolve this or that and can receive in good conscience. And sometimes it is right for us to prepare by going to Confession.

Always, if we receive communion we pause just before we receive communion and either bow our heads or make the sign of the Cross as a final act of preparation and reverence. Then we approach the minister, and acknowledge the real and living presence of Christ in our exchange in the ritual exchange.

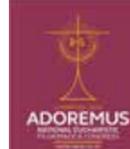

The Body of Christ. Amen.

The Blood of Christ. Amen.

Parish outing to the Barber Institute (University of Birmingham, Edgbaston, B15 2TS) and (optional!) walking tour of Birmingham University Campus.

Meet inside the entrance to the Barber Institute at 11am, on Sat 27th October. (It is usually easy to park at the University on a Saturday, or you can travel to University rail station and take a c10 minute walk, signposted, across campus.

The Barber is one of Birmingham's treasures and one of the finest smaller collections of paintings (Renaissance to 20th C) in the country.

If you are coming and need, or can offer, a lift please use the poster in the porch to let others know.

Pray with Pope Francis

The Pope's prayer intention for October is that consecrated religious men and women may bestir themselves, and be present among the poor, the marginalized, and those who have no voice.

To find the Pope's other current prayer intentions please visit <http://www.apostleshipofprayer.org/>
